Present Simple

The Present Simple tense is the most basic tense in English and uses the base form of the verb (except for the verb be). The only change from the base is the addition of s for third person singular.

How do we make the Present Simple tense?

There are two basic structures for the Present Simple:

1. Positive sentences

subject +	main verb
	Present Simple

2. Negative and question sentences

subject +	auxiliary do	+ main verb
	conjugated in Present Simple
	do, does	base

Look at these examples with the main verb like:

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	subject	auxiliary verb		main verb
+	I, you, we, they			Like	coffee.
	He, she, it			Likes	coffee.
-	I, you, we, they	do	not	Like	coffee.
	He, she, it	does	not	Like	coffee.
?	Do	I, you, we, they		Like	coffee?
	Does	he, she, it		Like	coffee?

From the above table, notice the following points...

For positive sentences:

- There is no auxiliary verb.
- We conjugate the main verb by adding s to the third person singular.

For negative and question sentences:

- The auxiliary verb (do) is conjugated in the Present Simple: do, does
- The main verb is invariable in base form: base
- For negative sentences, we insert not between the auxiliary verb and the main verb.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

- For question sentences, we exchange the subject and the auxiliary verb.

Emphatic do

Normally, for positive sentences we do not use the auxiliary verb do. But if we want to emphasize (stress) something, we may use it. For example, instead of saying "I like your dress", we could say "I do like your dress", just to show how much we like it. Here are some more examples:

- I do wish you'd stop.
- I do apologize.
- You do look smart today.

Present Simple with main verb be

The structure of the Present Simple with the main verb be is:

subject +	main verb be
	conjugated in Present Simple am, are, is

Look at these examples with the main verb be:

	subject	main verb be
+ I		am		French.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

subject	main verb be
You, we, they	are		French.
He, she, it	is		French.
- I	am	not	old.
You, we, they	are	not	old.
He, she, it	is	not	old.
? Am	I		late?
Are	you, we, they		late?
Is	he, she, it		late?

From the above table, notice the following points...

- There is no auxiliary verb, even for questions and negatives.
- The main verb (be) is conjugated in the Present Simple: am, are, is
- For negative sentences, we insert not after the main verb.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

- For question sentences, we exchange the subject and the main verb.

How do we use the Present Simple tense?

We use the Present Simple to talk about:

- general time (action verbs)
- situations now (stative verbs)
- general time and situations now (verb be)

Present Simple for general time

We use the Present Simple tense when:

- the action is general
- the action happens all the time, or habitually, in the past, present and future
- the action is not only happening now
- the statement is always true

John drives a taxi.
past	present	future
It is John's job to drive a taxi. He does it every day. Past, present and future.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Look at these examples:

- I live in New York.
- The Moon goes round the Earth.
- John drives a taxi.
- He does not drive a bus.
- We meet every Thursday.
- We do not work at night.
- Do you play football?

Present Simple for now

For stative verbs, we can use the Present Simple to talk about now. Stative verbs do not describe action. They describe state, and are verbs such as: like, sound, belong to, need, seem. We can use these verbs with the Present Simple tense to talk about about a situation at the present time, not general.

I want a coffee. That sounds interesting. Do you need some help?
past	present	future
	The situation is now.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Present Simple for general time and now

The verb be is always special. It is a stative verb, and we use it in the Present Simple tense to talk about nowsituations and about general situations. Look at these examples of the verb be in the Present Simple tense - some are general and some are now:

I am not fat. Why are you so beautiful? Ram is tall.
past	present	future
The situation is general. Past, present and future.
Am I right? Tara is not at home. We are hungry.
past	present	future
	The situation is now.

Present Continuous

(also called Present Progressive)

We often use the Present Continuous tense in English. It is very different from the Present Simple tense, both in structure and in use.

How do we make the Present Continuous tense?

The structure of the Present Continuous tense is:

subject	+	auxiliary be	+	main verb
---------	---	---------------------	---	-----------

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	conjugated in Present Simple
	am, are, is	present participle (-ing)

The auxiliary verb (be) is conjugated in the Present Simple: am, are, is

The main verb is invariable in present participle form: -ing

For negative sentences we insert not between the auxiliary verb and the main verb.

For question sentences, we exchange the subject and the auxiliary verb.

Look at these example sentences with the Present Continuous tense:

	subject	auxiliary verb		main verb
+	I	am		speaking	to you.
+	You	are		reading	this.
-	She	is	not	staying	in London.
-	We	are	not	playing	football.
?	Is	he		watching	TV?

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	subject	auxiliary verb		main verb
?	Are	they		waiting	for John?

How do we use the Present Continuous tense?

We use the Present Continuous to talk about:

- action happening now
- action in the future

Present Continuous for action happening now

a) for action happening exactly now

I am eating my lunch.
past	present	future
	The action is happening now.

Look at these images. Right now you are looking at this screen and at the same time...

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

the pages are turning	the candle is burning	the numbers are spinning

b) for action happening around now

The action may not be happening exactly now, but it is happening just before and just after now, and it is not permanent or habitual.

John is looking for a new job.
past	present	future
	The action is happening "around" now.

Look at these examples:

- Muriel is learning to drive.
- I am living with my sister until I find an apartment.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Present Continuous for the future

We can also use the Present Continuous tense to talk about the future - if we add a future word!! We must add (or understand from the context) a future word. "Future words" include, for example, tomorrow, next year, in June, at Christmas etc. We only use the Present Continuous tense to talk about the future when we have planned to do something before we speak. We have already made a decision and a plan before speaking.

I am taking my exam next month.
past	present	future
!!!
	A firm plan or programme exists now.	The action is in the future.

Look at these examples:

- We're eating at Joe's Cafe tonight. We've already booked the table..
- They can play tennis with you tomorrow. They're not working.
- When are you starting your new job?

In these examples, a firm plan or programme exists before speaking. The decision and plan were made before speaking.

How do we spell the Present Continuous tense?

We make the Present Continuous tense by adding -ing to the base verb. Normally it's simple: we just add -ing. But sometimes we have to change the word a little. Perhaps we double the last letter, or we drop a letter. Here are the rules to help you know how to spell the Present Continuous tense.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Basic rule	Just add -ing to the base verb:
	work	→	working
	play	→	playing
	assist	→	assisting
	see	→	seeing
	be	→	being
Exception	If the base verb ends in consonant + stressed vowel + consonant , double the last letter:
	<table border="1"><tr><td>s</td><td>t</td><td>o</td><td>p</td></tr><tr><td>consonant</td><td>stressed vowel</td><td>consonant</td><td></td></tr></table>	s	t	o	p	consonant	stressed vowel	consonant
	s	t	o	p
consonant	stressed vowel	consonant vowels = a, e, i, o, u
stop	→	stopping

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	run	→	running
	begin	→	beginning
	Note that this exception does not apply when the last syllable of the base verb is not stressed:
	open	→	opening
Exception	If the base verb ends in ie , change the ie to y :
	lie	→	lying
	die	→	dying
Exception	If the base verb ends in vowel + consonant + e , omit the e :
	come	→	coming
	mistake	→	mistaking

Present Perfect Tense

The Present Perfect tense is a rather important tense in English, but it gives speakers of some languages a difficult time. That is because it uses concepts or ideas that do not exist in those languages. In fact, the structure of the Present Perfect is very simple. The problems come with the use of the tense. In addition, there are some differences in usage between British and American English.

In this lesson we look at the structure and use of the Present Perfect tense, as well as the use of for and since, followed by a quiz to check your understanding.

The Present Perfect tense is really a very interesting tense, and a very useful one. Try not to translate the Present Perfect into your language. Just try to accept the concepts of this tense and learn to "think" Present Perfect! You will soon learn to like the Present Perfect tense!

How do we make the Present Perfect tense?

The structure of the Present Perfect is:

subject	+	auxiliary have	+	main verb
		conjugated in Present Simple

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	have, has	past participle
--	-----------	-----------------

The auxiliary verb (have) is conjugated in the Present Simple: have, has

The main verb is invariable in past participle form: -ed (or irregular)

For negative sentences we insert not between the auxiliary verb and the main verb.

For question sentences, we exchange the subject and the auxiliary verb.

Look at these example sentences with the Present Perfect tense:

	subject	auxiliary verb		main verb
+	I	have		seen	ET.
+	You	have		eaten	mine.
-	She	has	not	been	to Rome.
-	We	have	not	played	football.
?	Have	you		finished?
?	Have	they		done	it?

Contraction with Present Perfect

When we use the Present Perfect in speaking, we often contract the subject and auxiliary verb. We also sometimes do this in informal writing.

I have	I've
You have	You've
He has She has It has John has The car has	He's She's It's John's The car's
We have	We've
They have	They've

- You've told me that before.
- John's seen Harry Potter.

In negative sentences, we may contract the auxiliary verb and "not":

- You haven't won the contest.
- She hasn't heard from him.

He's or he's??? Be careful! The 's contraction is used for the auxiliary verbs have and be. For example, "It's eaten" can mean:

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

- It has eaten. (Present Perfect tense, active voice)
- It is eaten. (Present Simple tense, passive voice)

It is usually clear from the context.

How do we use the Present Perfect tense?

This tense is called the Present Perfect tense. There is always a connection with the past and with the present.

We use the Present Perfect to talk about:

- experience
- change
- continuing situation

Present Perfect for experience

We often use the Present Perfect to talk about experience from the past. We are not interested in when you did something. We only want to know if you did it:

I have seen an alien. He has lived in Bangkok. Have you been there? We have never eaten caviar.
past	present	future
!!!

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

The action or state was in the past.	In my head, I have a memory now.
--------------------------------------	----------------------------------	--

Connection with past: the event was in the past

Connection with present: in my head, now, I have a memory of the event; I know something about the event; I have experience of it

Present Perfect for change

We also use the Present Perfect to talk about a change, or new information:

I have bought a car.
past	present	future
-	+
Last week I didn't have a car.	Now I have a car.
John has broken his leg.
past	present	future
+	-

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Yesterday John had a good leg.	Now he has a bad leg.
Has the price gone up?
past	present	future
+	-
Was the price $1.50 yesterday?	Is the price $1.70 today?
The police have arrested the killer.
past	present	future
-	+
Yesterday the killer was free.	Now he is in prison.

Connection with past: the past is the opposite of the present

Connection with present: the present is the opposite of the past

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Americans do use the Present Perfect but less than British speakers. Americans often use the Past Simple tense instead. An American might say "Did you have lunch?", where a British person would say "Have you had lunch?"

Present Perfect for continuing situation

We often use the Present Perfect to talk about a continuing situation. This is a state that started in the past and continues in the present (and will probably continue into the future). This is a situation (not an action). We usually use for or since with this structure.

I have worked here since June. He has been ill for 2 days. How long have you known Tara (for)?
past	present	future
The situation started in the past.
It continues up to now.
(It will probably continue into the future.)

Connection with past: the situation started in the past.

Connection with present: the situation continues in the present.

For and Since with Present Perfect tense

We often use for and since with perfect tenses:

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

- We use for to talk about a period of time: five minutes, two weeks, six years
- We use since to talk about a point in past time: 9 o'clock, 1st January, Monday

for	since

6 months	January
4 years	1994
2 centuries	1800

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

ever	the beginning of time
etc	etc

Look at these example sentences using for and since with the Present Perfect tense:

- I have been here for twenty minutes.
- I have been here since 9 o'clock.
- John hasn't called for six months.
- John hasn't called since February.
- He has worked in New York for a long time.
- He has worked in New York since he left school.

For can be used with all tenses. Since is usually used with perfect tenses only.

Present Perfect Continuous

The Present Perfect Continuous uses two auxiliary verbs together with a main verb.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

In this lesson we look at the structure and use of the Present Perfect Continuous tense, as well as the use of for and since, followed by a quiz to check your understanding.

Note that continuous tenses are also called progressive tenses. So the Present Perfect Continuous tense is sometimes called the Present Perfect Progressive tense.

How do we make the Present Perfect Continuous tense?

The structure of the Present Perfect Continuous tense is:

subject	+	auxiliary have	+	auxiliary be	+	main verb

The first auxiliary (have) is conjugated in the Present Simple: have, has

The second auxiliary (be) is invariable in past participle form: been

The main verb is invariable in present participle form: -ing

For negative sentences we insert not after the first auxiliary verb.

For question sentences, we exchange the subject and first auxiliary verb.

Look at these example sentences with the Present Perfect Continuous tense:

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	subject	auxiliary verb		auxiliary verb	main verb
+	I	have		been	waiting	for one hour.

- I've been reading.
- Jenny's been helping us recently.

In negative sentences, we may contract the first auxiliary verb and "not":

- I haven't been playing tennis.
- It hasn't been snowing.

How do we use the Present Perfect Continuous tense?

This tense is called the Present Perfect Continuous tense. There is usually a connection with the present or now.

We use the Present Perfect Continuous to talk about:

- past action recently-stopped
- past action still-continuing

Present Perfect Continuous for past action just stopped

We use the Present Perfect Continuous tense to talk about action that started in the past and stopped recently. There is usually a result now.

Recent action	Result now

- I'm tired ^[now] because I've been running.
- Why is the grass wet ^[now]? Has it been raining?
- You don't understand ^[now] because you haven't been listening.

Present Perfect Continuous for past action continuing now

We use the Present Perfect Continuous tense to talk about action that started in the past and is continuing now. This is often used with for or since.

I have been reading for 2 hours.

For can be used with all tenses. Since is usually used with perfect tenses only.

Past Simple

The Past Simple tense is sometimes called the "preterite tense". We can use several tenses and forms to talk about the past, but the Past Simple tense is the one we use most often.

In this lesson we look at the structure and use of the Past Simple tense, followed by a quiz to check your understanding.

How do we make the Past Simple tense?

There are two basic structures for the Past Simple tense:

1. Positive sentences

subject	+	main verb
---------	---	-----------

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	Past Simple
--	--------------------

2. Negative and question sentences

subject	+	auxiliary do	+	main verb
		conjugated in Past Simple
		did		base

Look at these examples with the main verbs go (irregular) and work (regular):

	subject	auxiliary verb		main verb
+	I			went	to school.
	You			worked	very hard.
-	She	did	not	go	with me.
	We	did	not	work	yesterday.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	subject	auxiliary verb		main verb
?	Did	you		go	to London?
	Did	they		work	at home?

From the above table, notice the following points...

For positive sentences:

- There is no auxiliary verb.
- The main verb is conjugated in the Past Simple, invariable: -ed (or irregular)

For negative and question sentences:

- The auxiliary is conjugated in the Past Simple, invariable: did
- The main verb is invariable in base form: base
- For negative sentences, we insert not between the auxiliary verb and main verb.
- For question sentences, we exchange the subject and the auxiliary verb.

Emphatic did

Normally, for positive sentences we do not use the auxiliary did. But if we want to emphasize (stress) something, or contradict something, we may use it. For example: "I didn't use a spellchecker but I did use a dictionary." Here are some more examples:

- "Why didn't you go to the party?" / "I did go."

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

- It did seem a bit strange.
- After drinking it I did in fact feel better.

Past Simple with main verb be

The structure of the Past Simple with the main verb be is:

subject +	main verb be
	conjugated in Past Simple was, were

Look at these examples with the main verb be:

	subject	main verb be
+	I, he/she/it	was	here.
	You, we, they	were	in London.
-	I, he/she/it	was	not there.
	You, we, they	were	not happy.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	subject	main verb be
?	Was	I, he/she/it		right?
	Were	you, we, they		late?

From the above table, notice the following points...

- There is no auxiliary verb, even for questions and negatives.
- The main verb (be) is conjugated in the Past Simple: was, were
- For negative sentences, we insert not after the main verb.
- For question sentences, we exchange the subject and the main verb.

How do we use the Past Simple tense?

We use the Past Simple tense to talk about an action or a situation - an event - in the past. The event can be short or long.

Here are some short events with the Past Simple:

The car exploded at 9.30am yesterday. She went to the door. We did not hear the telephone. Did you see that car?
past	present	future

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

The action is in the past.
----------------------------	--	--

Here are some long events with the Past Simple tense:

I lived in Bangkok for 10 years. The Jurassic period lasted about 62 million years. We did not sing at the concert. Did you watch TV last night?
past	present	future
The action is in the past.

Notice that it does not matter how long ago the event is: it can be a few minutes or seconds in the past, or millions of years in the past. Also it does not matter how long the event is. It can be a few milliseconds (car explosion) or millions of years (Jurassic period). We use the Past Simple tense when:

- the event is in the past
- the event is completely finished
- we say (or understand) the time and/or place of the event

In general, if we say the past time or place of the event, we must use the Past Simple tense; we cannot use the present perfect.
--

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Here are some more examples:

- I lived in that house when I was young.
- He didn't like the movie.
- What did you eat for dinner?
- John drove to London on Monday.
- Mary did not go to work yesterday.
- Did you play tennis last week?
- I was at work yesterday.
- We were not late (for the train).
- Were you angry?

Note that when we tell a story, we usually use the Past Simple. We may start with the Past Continuous tense to "set the scene", but we almost always use the Past Simple tense for the action. Look at this example of the beginning of a story:

"The wind was howling around the hotel and the rain was pouring down. It was cold. The door opened and James Bond entered. He took off his coat, which was very wet, and ordered a drink at the bar. He sat down in the corner of the lounge and quietly drank his..."

This page shows the use of the Past Simple tense to talk about past events. But note that there are some other uses for the Past Simple, for example in conditional or if sentences.

Past Continuous

The Past Continuous tense is an important tense in English. We use it to say what we were in the middle of doing at a particular moment in the past.

In this lesson we look at the structure and the use of the Past Continuous tense, followed by a quiz to check your understanding.

Note that continuous tenses are also called progressive tenses. So the Past Continuous tense is sometimes called the Past Progressive tense.

How do we make the Past Continuous tense?

The structure of the past continuous tense is:

subject	+	auxiliary be	+	main verb
		conjugated in Past Simple
		was, were		present participle

The auxiliary verb (be) is conjugated in the Past Simple: was, were

The main verb is invariable in present participle form: -ing

For negative sentences we insert not between the auxiliary verb and the main verb.

For question sentences, we exchange the subject and the auxiliary verb.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Look at these example sentences with the Past Continuous tense:

	subject	auxiliary verb		main verb
+	I	was		watching	TV.
+	You	were		working	hard.
-	He, she, it	was	not	helping	Mary.
-	We	were	not	joking.
?	Were	you		being	silly?
?	Were	they		playing	football?

The spelling rules for adding -ing to make the Past Continuous tense are the same as for the Present Continuous tense.

How do we use the Past Continuous tense?

The Past Continuous tense expresses action at a particular moment in the past. The action started before that moment but has not finished at that moment. For example, yesterday I watched a film on TV. The film started at 7pm and finished at 9pm.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

At 8pm yesterday, I was watching TV.
past	present	future
8pm
At 8pm, I was in the middle of watching TV.

When we use the Past Continuous tense, our listener usually knows or understands what time we are talking about. Look at these examples:

- I was working at 10pm last night.
- They were not playing football at 9am this morning.
- What were you doing at 10pm last night?
- What were you doing when he arrived?
- She was cooking when I telephoned her.
- We were having dinner when it started to rain.
- Ram went home early because it was snowing.

Note that some verbs cannot be used in continuous/progressive tenses.

We often use the Past Continuous tense to "set the scene" in stories. We use it to describe the background situation at the moment when the action begins. Often, the story starts with the Past Continuous tense and then moves into the Past Simple tense. Here is an example:

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

"James Bond was driving through town. It was raining. The wind was blowing hard. Nobody was walking in the streets. Suddenly, Bond saw the killer in a telephone box..."

Past Continuous + Past Simple

We often use the Past Continuous tense with the Past Simple tense. We use the Past Continuous to express a long action. And we use the Past Simple to express a short action that happens in the middle of the long action. We can join the two ideas with when or while.

In the following example, we have two actions:

1. long action (watching TV), expressed with Past Continuous
2. short action (telephoned), expressed with Past Simple

past	present	future
long action: I was watching TV from 7pm to 9pm.
8pm
short action: You phoned at 8pm.

We can join these two actions with when:

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

- I was watching TV when you telephoned.

Notice that "when you telephoned" is also a way of defining the time (8pm).

We use:

- when + short action (Past Simple)
- while + long action (Past Continuous)

There are four basic combinations:

	I was walking past the car	when	it exploded.
When	the car exploded		I was walking past it.
	The car exploded	while	I was walking past it.
While	I was walking past the car		it exploded.

Notice that the long action and short action are relative.

- "Watching TV" took two hours. "Telephoned" took a few seconds.
- "Walking past the car" took a few seconds. "Exploded" took milliseconds.

Past Perfect

The Past Perfect tense is quite an easy tense to understand and to use. This tense talks about the "past in the past".

In this lesson we look at the structure and use of the Past Perfect tense, followed by a quiz to check your understanding.

How do we make the Past Perfect tense?

The structure of the Past Perfect tense is:

subject	+	auxiliary have	+	main verb
---------	---	-----------------------	---	-----------

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	conjugated in Past Simple
	had	past participle

The auxiliary verb (have) is conjugated in the Past Simple: had

The main verb is invariable in past participle form: -ed (or irregular)

For negative sentences we insert not between the auxiliary verb and the main verb.

For question sentences, we exchange the subject and the auxiliary verb.

Look at these example sentences with the Past Perfect tense:

	subject	auxiliary verb		main verb
+	I	had		finished	my work.
+	You	had		stopped	before me.
-	She	had	not	gone	to school.
-	We	had	not	left.
?	Had	you		arrived?

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

?	Had	they		eaten	dinner?
---	-----	------	--	-------	---------

Contraction with Past Perfect

When we use the Past Perfect in speaking, we often contract the subject and the auxiliary verb. We also sometimes do this in informal writing:

I had	I'd
you had	you'd
he had she had it had	he'd she'd it'd
we had	we'd
they had	they'd

- I'd eaten already.
- They'd gone home.

In negative sentences, we may contract the auxiliary verb and "not":

- I hadn't finished my meal.
- Anthony hadn't had a day off for months.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

The 'd contraction is also used for the auxiliary verb would. For example, we'd can mean:

- We had, OR
- We would

But usually the main verb is in a different form, for example:

- We had arrived (past participle)
- We would arrive (base)

It is always clear from the context.

How do we use the Past Perfect tense?

The Past Perfect tense expresses action in the past before another action in the past. This is the past in the past. For example:

- The train left at 9am. We arrived at 9:15am. When we arrived, the train had left.

The train had left when we arrived.
past	present	future
Train leaves in past at 9:00

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

9:00	9:15
We arrive in past at 9:15

Look at some more examples:

- I wasn't hungry. I had just eaten.
- They were hungry. They had not eaten for five hours.
- I didn't know who he was. I hadnever seen him before.
- "Mary wasn't at home when I arrived." / "Really?
Where had she gone?"

You can sometimes think of the Past Perfect tense like the Present Perfect tense, but instead of the time being now the time is before.

	have done → had done →
	past	present	future

For example, imagine that you arrive at the station at 9:15am. The stationmaster says to you:

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

- "You are too late. The train has left."

Later, you tell your friends:

- "We were too late. The train had left."

We often use the Past Perfect in reported speech after verbs like: said, told, asked, thought, wondered

Look at these examples:

- He told us that the train had left.
- I thought I had met her before, but I was wrong.
- He explained that he had closed the window because of the rain.
- I wondered if I had been there before.
- I asked them why they had not finished.

Past Perfect Continuous

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

The Past Perfect Continuous is another tense that expresses the "past in the past".

In this lesson we look at the structure and use of the Past Perfect Continuous tense, followed by a quiz to check your understanding.

Note that continuous tenses are also called progressive tenses. So the Past Perfect Continuous tense is sometimes called the Past Perfect Progressive tense.

How do we make the Past Perfect Continuous tense?

The structure of the Past Perfect Continuous tense is:

subject	+	auxiliary have	+	auxiliary be	+	main verb
		conjugated in Past Simple		past participle
		had		been		present participle

The first auxiliary verb (have) is conjugated in the Past Simple, invariable: had

The second auxiliary verb (be) is invariable in past participle form: been

The main verb is invariable in present participle form: -ing

For negative sentences we insert not after the first auxiliary verb.

For question sentences, we exchange the subject and the first auxiliary verb.

Look at these example sentences with the Past Perfect Continuous tense:

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	subject	auxiliary verb		auxiliary verb	main verb
+	I	had		been	working.
+	You	had		been	playing	tennis.
-	It	had	not	been	working	well.
-	We	had	not	been	expecting	her.
?	Had	you		been	drinking?
?	Had	they		been	waiting	long?

Contraction with Past Perfect Continuous

When we use the Past Perfect Continuous in speaking, we often contract the subject and the first auxiliary verb. We also sometimes do this in informal writing.

I had been	I'd been
you had been	you'd been

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

he had been she had been it had been	he'd been she'd been it'd been we had been	we'd been
they had been	they'd been

- He'd been drinking all day.
- It'd been pouring with rain.

In negative sentences, we may contract the first auxiliary verb and "not":

- We hadn't been living there long.
- They hadn't been studying very hard.

How do we use the Past Perfect Continuous tense?

The Past Perfect Continuous tense is like the Past Perfect tense, but it expresses longer actions in the past before another action in the past. For example:

- Ram started waiting at 9am. I arrived at 11am. When I arrived, Ram had been waiting for two hours.

past	present	future
Ram starts waiting in past at 9am.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

9 11
I arrive in past at 11am.
Ram had been waiting for two hours when I arrived.

Here are some more examples:

- John was very tired. He had been running.
- I could smell cigarettes. Somebody had been smoking.
- Suddenly, my car broke down. I was not surprised. It had not been running well for a long time.
- Had the pilot been drinking before the crash?

You can sometimes think of the Past Perfect Continuous tense like the Present Perfect Continuous tense, but instead of the time being now the time is before.

	have been doing →
had been doing →

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

	past	present	future
--	------	---------	--------

For example, imagine that you meet Ram at 11am. Ram says to you:

- "I am angry. I have been waiting for two hours."

Later, you tell your friends:

- "Ram was angry. He had been waiting for two hours."
- Future Simple

The Future Simple tense is often called the "will tense" because we make the Future Simple with the modal auxiliary will.

How do we make the Future Simple tense?

The structure of the Future Simple tense is:

subject	+	auxiliary will	+	main verb
		invariable		base
		will		V1

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

For negative sentences in the Future Simple tense, we insert not between the auxiliary verb and main verb. For question sentences, we exchange the subject and auxiliary verb. Look at these example sentences with the Future Simple tense:

	subject	auxiliary verb		main verb
+	I	will		open	the door.
+	You	will		finish	before me.
-	She	will	not	be	at school tomorrow.
-	We	will	not	leave	yet.
?	Will	you		arrive	on time?
?	Will	they		want	dinner?

We sometimes use shall instead of will, especially for I and we.

Contraction with Future Simple

When we use the Future Simple tense in speaking, we often contract the subject and auxiliary verb:

I will	I'll

In negative sentences, we contract with won't, like this:

I will not	I won't
you will not	you won't
he will not she will not it will not	he won't she won't it won't
we will not	we won't

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

they will not	they won't

How do we use the Future Simple tense?

No Plan

We use the Future Simple tense when there is no plan or decision to do something before we speak. We make the decision spontaneously at the time of speaking. Look at these examples:

- Hold on. I'll get a pen.
- We will see what we can do to help you.
- Maybe we'll stay in and watch television tonight.

In these examples, we had no firm plan before speaking. The decision is made at the time of speaking.

We often use the Future Simple tense with the verb to think before it:

- I think I'll go to the gym tomorrow.
- I think I will have a holiday next year.
- I don't think I'll buy that car.

Prediction

We often use the Future Simple tense to make a prediction about the future. Again, there is no firm plan. We are saying what we think will happen. Here are some examples:

- It will rain tomorrow.
- People won't go to Jupiter before the 22nd century.
- Who do you think will get the job?

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Be

When the main verb is be, we can use the Future Simple tense even if we have a firm plan or decision before speaking. Examples:

- I'll be in London tomorrow.
- I'm going shopping. I won't be very long.
- Will you be at work tomorrow?

Note that when we have a plan or intention to do something in the future, we usually use other tenses or expressions, such as the present continuous or going to.

Future Continuous

The Future Continuous tense is often used in English as a way to talk about something happening at a given point in the future.

How do we use the Future Continuous tense?

The Future Continuous tense expresses action at a particular moment in the future. The action will have started before that moment but it will not have finished at that moment. For example, tomorrow I will start work at 2pm and stop work at 6pm:

At 4pm tomorrow, I will be working .
past	present	future
4pm
		At 4pm, I will be in the middle of working.

When we use the Future Continuous tense, our listener usually knows or understands what time we are talking about. Look at these examples:

- I will be playing tennis at 10am tomorrow.

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

- They won't be watching TV at 9pm tonight.

Note that continuous tenses are also called progressive tenses. So the Future Continuous tense is sometimes called the Future Progressive tense.

Future Perfect

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

We sometimes use shall instead of will, especially for I and we.

How do we use the Future Perfect tense?

The Future Perfect tense expresses action in the future before another action in the future. This is the past in the future. For example:

Rahmanullah Lawangeen

Rahmanullah Lawangeen
