He has written a stage drama that was directed and acted at Polokwane City when he was in his high school level. Most of his poems he wrote about love. That is why he is usually called Gift of Love. This is because he is the poet of love.

The following are the best novels and poetry books that he wrote.

The Architects of True Love (poetry book)

Falling in love effectively (poetry book)

These are the novels that he wrote that change many learners 's lives.

Becoming a genius

Realizing your distinctions ability within you

Releasing the distinctions in you

Maximizing your distinctions

The art of getting distinctions

The spirit of distinctions

Dedication to distinctions

Lockdown is nothing, get your distinctions and progress

Knowing and understanding your distinctions leadership

Get all your distinctions and get out of the school.

The art of proposing love to a woman.

Dedication

First and foremost, I would like to delicately dedicated this book to all my contemporary students at high school level and University level. I desired to assist with the accumulation of distinctions in your studies during this lockdown period. I humbly dedicate this book to all learners who were depressed and frustrated by this lockdown not knowing how to excell in education. It is upon my deepest compassion to take you to the exquisite destination that you would enjoy being at. I also documented this initiative to silent dreamers of distinctions. To all those who desired to get distinctions during lockdown but perplexed and frustrated by lockdown. To all millennials students who didn't had the strategies and skills of how to get distinctions. To all learners who didn't believed in themselves that they can also get distinctions. To those who were victims of failure in their studies. By this you have found your best friend who will improve your academic life for the betterment.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Everything we accomplish in life that we regard as accomplishment is a synergistic product of many people who have contributed to who we are or what we were doing. It is just like it takes many families to make a community and it takes many authors to write a book. This book has no difference. I am perpetually and eternally grateful to all men and women who have inspired, encouraged and motivated me on this challenging path of success. I am forever indebted to their impact in my life. Here are some few who have changed my life for the betterment.

My late daddy, Katobatoba Nkogatse, I thank you for laying the foundation for my life that this book could not just be a theory but a practical of my life experience. Thanks for being my real father.

My beloved mother, Maria Makamele Nkogatse, thanks a lot.

I would be failing my job if I forget my gifted editor and proofreader, Jack Chokwe. Thank you for all your patience, support and courage that you gave me. Truly speaking, you are a writer's angel. I will never end acknowledging you.

I would also like to send my thanks to the creator of my potential, my father God and His big son Jesus the Christ. Thanks for making me to discover my purpose and start living it. Again, let me send my humble acknowledgments to you for providing me with such an amazing talent and potential.

And lastly, I conclude by thanking my aunt, Reneilwe Nkogatse. You are the best aunt I have ever met. Thanks for giving me a chance to pursue my persuasions in my life. I am now educationally blessed because of you.

INTRODUCTION

Why stressing too much because you will get distinctions this year? Why am I asking you this question? Because I understand that every learner was created to get distinctions in the studies and that includes you reading this book now. This means that you were designed by the creator to be a top learner.

The capacity and ability to get those distinctions is in you. In essence, you are like a glass of water that is filled with water ready to be poured out. You are loaded with distinctions that are still waiting to be released this year. That's why you better start pouring those distinctions out of you so that when the year end you will succeeded. When you think according the spirit of distinctions you began the process of becoming a genius.

Here are some of qualities that geniuses possess: hard work, passion, motivation, inspiration, change, patience, discipline, time management, confidence and understanding.

When the spirit of distinctions becomes alive within a student, it produces an attitude that transform a failure into a genius and a slow learner into an intelligent learner. However, it is those who choose to be genius that will eventually be them. Becoming a genius is a choice made by a learner. That is why is extremely significant to meditate on these keys of distinctions that will help you to become one. Never forget that you are special, that's why you must choose to become a genius.

This page was left intentionally blank.

Every learner was born as a genius but they must become one.

Inside you there is distinctions spirit trapped. Your distinctions spirit is your ability to get distinctions in examinations.

You must develop and cultivate the spirit of distinctions. The spirit of distinctions is your mentality to get distinctions in examinations.

The most important pursuit in every learner should be the one of distinctions.

Every student has in them the distinctions Spirit and they must manifest the spirit of distinctions.

TTrue genius is a product of inspiration and motivation.

TTrue genius do not focus on people but on purpose. And the purpose of a genius is to get distinctions.

YYou are really not a genius until you get motivated.

Geniusness initiate within an individual when he start to appreciate and accept himself.

The essence of geniusness is the discovery of one's power and strength of studying.

Geniuses don't tell what they have read yet they always tell what they are reading.

Cramming is the distinctions art of slow learners but

Understanding of content is the distinctions art of geniuses.

A student 's greatest mistake is that of allowing peer pressure to control him rather than him controlling peer pressure.

Show me your friends and I will show you your distinctions. Why? Because not all friends can lead you to your distinctions. Genius are careful.

Geniusness is a trusted privileged given by classmates.

To a genius education is not about how many teachers like him but how many distinctions he/she make the teachers to give him. And to make teachers give you distinctions you must have self-discipline and study super hard.

You don't want to live your life with your friends 's mentality again. Think for yourself, trust yourself and believe in yourself. You shall rise to higher positions.

Teachers can give you the notes. Your parents can give you pocket money. But all these people won't give you distinctions. Work hard to get some.

There is nothing powerful as attitude. Attitude dictate your respond to your studies and determine the quality
Of your future.

The secret to distinctions is the love of studying.

It is dangerous to date without studying than to study with dating.

What separate a slow learner from a genius is the attitude. Therefore, you are your own attitude and your attitude is you. If you don't direct your attitude to Study, your attitude will direct you nowhere.

A learner 's life is like driving a car. That's why you have to be at the driver's sit because if you don't life will drive you.

As learners we were created to be at the highest positions. You were created to lead your class with distinctions.

Being at the lowest level doesn't negate your inherent distinctions ability.

You are inherently a genius but you must become one. How? Through reading, mastering, calculating and studying.

The key to the spirit of distinctions is attitude.

The formula for distinctions is positive mentality plus hard work.

We are all geniuses as students but only few will ever be who they really are. This is because to become a genius in reality is a choice.

Most of our contemporary students are not geniuses even today because we don't believe in our heart that, that is who we are.

Until you believe and trust yourself to that extend, you
Will never be a genius.

Because geniuses trust and believe in themselves, they study hard and strive to be at the top. That is why all geniuses influence their classmates rather than their classmates influencing them.

You get distinctions when you understand the content. To understand the content, fall in love with Studying daily.

You really don't need a teacher to learn because your distinctions are only found in you.

The power and potential to get distinctions is waiting for you to start using it. Ignorance of that power and potential, is the sign of a learner's immaturity.

No teacher or lecturer can set a learner free from failing. It's the choice of a learner to decide to be free.

You were born to be a genius but you must become one.

Geniusness is the capacity to influence your classmate through inspiration of your high marks and that inspiration comes from your passion and the love of studying.

Learners whom you inspire calls you a top learner and teachers whom you satisfy them call you a genius.

If inspiration is the legitimate influence to your classmates and thus is a source of you to become a genius, then inspiration should be the pursuit of every millennium generation.

Greatness of a learner is only found in his or her distinctions.

The proof of being smart as a learner is when you start to strive to be a top learner.

Learning is reading and reading is learning. There distinctions are easily attainable when a learner make reading his daily meal to enjoy.

The distinctions spirit is the ability that a learner have to use to get distinctions and the spirit of distinctions is the mentality that a learner can develop to get distinctions.

Laziness and hatred of learning is the formula of failures and slow learners.

When we begin to be “ in charge” of our lives, we will naturally become geniuses.

It is just like a fish, the swimming capacity is in itself, so as our capacity to get distinctions is within us as learners.

Learners who depend too much on teachers will never be leaders of distinctions in their classes.

If we were all created to be geniuses, then we must all possess the capacity and ability to get distinctions every time we write. And most importantly, our abilities that we possess should correspond to being genius.

To initiate exercising your geniusness, you must believe that you are inherently a genius.

The shortest way to get distinctions is the love of studying and understanding the content.

Greatness of a high school learner or tertiary learner is born when they decide to be the slave of their studies not their friends.

Be the great servant of the distinctions within you. To do that you must automatically be the slave of your studies.

If you want to become a genius, do not seek the higher marks or percentages, seek to understand all the chapters that you are going to write about.

The shortest way to geniusness is serving of your distinctions. Genuine geniusness is measured by how many distinctions you get when writing either test or examinations.

The more you serve your distinctions, the more influence you have in the class and the greater your geniusness.

Plagiarizing at the expense of getting distinctions or getting high marks is an “abuse of our ability to get distinctions.

The most important person to focus on is you. That is why you must start to be in charge of your life.

Truе geniuses respect and honor the authenticity of distinctions, that is why they develop high self- discipline. Self-discipline protect your distinctions ability to not be wasted.

It is better to dropout and not be at school than to be at school not striving to get distinctions. Your purpose is to get distinctions, start living by it. This is because anything that you are doing and is not related to your purpose(distinctions) is just a waste of time.

Our attitude cannot stop our distinctions but they can prevent our distinctions from being stopped.

The most important source to be careful with is where or whom gives you information everyday. This is because the information that you receive gives you ideas and those ideas create your belief system and your beliefs systems produce your attitude. Your attitude towards education determines your distinctions.

It is your mentality that determines your destiny in life.

You decide how much you want to get in examinations by your mentality.

The marks that you will obtain in examinations or tests are the product of your mentality. The levels that you will obtain are determined by how you think.

To become an agent of distinctions, turn your bedroom into classroom and your phone into electronic session and your home into library.

Nothing is more dangerous than a high school learner with mental soundness.

Not everyone can get 100% but everyone can get distinctions because distinctions are determined by a learner's positive mind and hard work.

A poor self-esteem and low self-confidence has resulted in learning of the wrong things well about you and believing that they are true whereas are fallacious. For example, when you have learnt that you are a slow learner and believe that, that is who you are.

I can't say much, but I can tell you that, you are inherently a genius and you must become one.

Academic life is not necessarily measured by how many girls or boys you have dated but how many distinctions you have got and you will still get.

Success in education is attracted to a learner when he or she start to enter the competition with an examiner not with classmates. And this is true because true success academically comes when you strive to obtain the highest marks that no one can get. That's where you become a genius.

The essence of genuine genius is the darling and loving of studying or reading if not practicing.

It is academically wise to study at least three subjects a day.

If you want to be a failure be an imitation and lazy. And if you want to get the lowest marks depend on teachers or lecturers too much.

If you love yourself in true sense you will always use your power and potential to be great in the class. You cannot be a genius unless you change your mind and your attitude.

You cannot release your distinctions if you don't prepare for them. You cannot lead your classmates with distinctions if you don't study everyday. Self-discipline is the key to become a leader of distinctions in your class.

When you focus on others more than your studies is a sign that you ignore yourself. The greatest tragedy start when a learner ignore himself/herself. Self-hatred is manifested by one's ignorance.

You must come to a point where you are convicted that you are also a genius. True geniuses believe that they will get the highest marks. And they know that they must study everyday.

Always follow your purpose(distinctions).

Your purpose is your distinctions and your distinctions will be through your destiny. Therefore, your purpose which is the distinctions is your final destination.

You are meticulously conscientious and conscious when you start working towards your purpose which is distinction. And that literally means that you are not going towards your distinctions but your distinctions are pulling you towards them. My simple words are focus and pay attention to your studies to excellently reach your destination which is distinctions.

“Giving up or retiring” are only two perfect words found in the dictionary of idiots.

Until you start getting distinctions, anything that you are getting are not something but nothing.

The belief, focus and hard work of a learner in the studies relate the nature of genuine geniusness.

What you believe about yourself say much about the marks that you are getting and that you are still going to get. Who you think you are determines how you approach your studies.

The power to study comes from self-motivation that produce the strong beliefs about yourself.

Stop wasting time to get distinctions and start investing time to get distinctions. That literally means stop playing and start studying.

Are the geniuses only that study even no one is watching at them.

If you need other people's approval for you to study, you are not yet an intelligent learner. Intelligent learners love to be with themselves increasing their knowledge.

Geniusness is the makeup of our DNA that is within every learner. That is why for one to make it visible he must fall in love with studying.

To all geniuses studying is not boring but is adding knowledge that will help them to excel in examinations.

Passion is the most important key to get distinctions.

If you don't have passion of distinctions, you won't receive them.

The information you have about yourself determines your distinctions destiny. That's why you must erase all the erroneous information you have about you and download the new positive one.

To get distinctions requires constant monitoring of what goes into your mind.

Passion and courage are the essence of genius.

A true genius pursues a purpose not people

TTrue geniuses know that purpose (distinctions) is more important than peer pressure. That's why they always decide to sacrifice themselves for their studies not friends.

The major dream of genius is to get distinctions.

TTrue geniuses don't just dream but they awaken and act on their dream.

It is not enough to have the desire, hope and believe of getting distinctions yet you must act in getting them.

How you think determines your distinctions destination.

Your distinction destination is your destiny. The right road to start working to is the one to your distinctions.

No distinctions will ever be accomplished unless the right decision has been made.

There is no other greater pursuit in education than the pursuit of distinctions.

It's useless to study without a desire for distinctions.

Intelligence is not measured by how many learners you are always above them but is measured by how close where you to get hundred percent.

The great competition that a learner can enter is the one with an examiner not the classmates.

Geniusness is not a competition but motivation to strive for excellence.

The level of our thinking determines the levels of our academic results.

If you don't pursue your purpose (distinctions), others will control your life.

Falling in love with pursuing your purpose is the art of discipline manifestation.

The secret to become a genius is living a very focused life in line with your purpose (distinctions).

TTrue genius doesn't look others down as if they know everything. The essence of intelligence is being rich in interaction yet knowing when to study.

Dedication and motivation are creative reserve of geniuses.

The spirit of distinctions is always manifested when a learner changes the mentality for the betterment. The very nature of leading the class with distinctions demand sacrificing your youth by studying like no body's business.

You have to understand that you already have the distinctions spirit but you must possess the spirit of distinctions through training.

The highest marks that you want are not behind you but are within you. The distinctions that you really want are not found in teachers but inside you. That's why you must waste no more time, realize and release them.

The best acquisition is the one of distinctions that you should never stop dreaming about.

To a genius, reading is not boring but interesting. Studying is not wasting time but investing time for the betterment. Only slow learners don't understand these.

You are not a genius until you fall in love with studying.

Geniuses are not prisoners of their culture or conditioning.

Is the geniuses that are the changing of the changing changer. That is why they are intelligent.

The geniuses don't care anymore. They do whatever it takes to be at the top.

TTrue geniuses don't follow the class with distinctions.
They lead the class with distinctions.

TTrue geniuses are the true lovers because they fall in love with all subjects and modules. That's why geniuses don't necessarily have their favorite subject or module.

Fight to get out of the uncomfortable state of failure into the comfortableness state of distinctions.

No teacher will set you free from failing, you have to set yourself free. That's why you no longer need a teacher to learn. Lecturers are there to clarify.

TTrue geniuses are not only inventors of distinctions but they are also the initiators of exceptional marks.

Any thought that you are thinking of and does not correspond to distinctions, it is extremely mediocre.
Mind you, mediocrity isn't a fort.

Everyday study as if you die tomorrow and hold them as if you will never have them.

Distinctions are by motivation through dedication nor meditation and acquisition.

No skillful studying, No distinctions.

The spirit of distinctions always possesses a sense of responsibility and accountability to your studies.

Maybe is because I don't have anymore best friends but the books, that's why I know that I am a genius. Befriend your books to become one.

Lack of distinctions is academic poverty while its wealth is accumulation of distinctions. Geniuses are learners with academic wealth.

The spirit of distinctions is permanent and it does not give up until it achieves its goal.

Without pursuing your distinctions, education is meaningless and senseless.

Genuine geniuses understand that discipline is a manifestation of the highest form in academic.

It is a learner's belief about him that can quickly and immediately transform him into a genuine genius.

A learner who get distinctions is an attractive learner.

Only geniuses understand that they must fortify hard to have self-discipline because it always reaps the glorious rewards.

Geniuses are more concern in controlling themselves for the sake of a higher goal. Therefore, they do not allow anyone to control them into deep darkness whole.

There is nothing more powerful and inspiring attitude than the attitude of self-discipline. People inspire a learner who is disciplined. That is why geniuses do not seek other people to like them yet people decide to like them because they are inspired by their discipline.

Purpose (distinctions) is the source of self-discipline of a genius. Until you discipline yourself, forget about distinctions.

An apple tree needs apples to attract people to it while a student need distinctions to attract NSFAS to him or her.

All geniuses know that they must continuously read hard daily.

Geniuses are always behind a teacher by work. That's why teachers disturb geniuses because they teach what they already know.

Distinctions are difficult to obtain when depending too much on teachers.

You need to come to a point where you are satisfied studying alone. Your beliefs about yourself should go deep that you only give teachers attention when you ask where you don't understand and when you are given a work to do.

It is bad distinctions to believe that you are not going to get distinctions in examinations this year.

Talk to a book and it will talk to you. Give a book attention and it will take you to the highest level.

TTrue geniuses attitude is more concern with fully expressing himself by studying.

Geniuses have the insatiable appetites for knowledge.

The hunger of genius is caused by lack of knowledge and is satisfied by accumulation of knowledge.

Reading is not just educational but a daily meal to geniuses.

The fact that you are interested In getting distinctions does not necessarily mean that you will get them. Commitment to your studies is the guy who make things possible in reality. Distinctions is not about talking but is about acting.

Passion is the only hundred percent juice that can energize you to keep going to your distinctions.

Many students are interested in distinctions but they will never get them because of lack of commitment. To be interested does not equals commitment yet commitment equals perseverance.

Working towards distinctions is not a temporary project or a semester project but is a permanent job to be engaged in.

Truе geniuses are resolve in their decision to pursue their purpose (distinctions).

You become unstoppable genius when you become passionate about your studies.

The best secret to become a genius is the love of studying skillfully.

You don't just jump and say am a genius. You need to realize your ability to get distinctions and start releasing them. Therefore, intelligence is not a pursued yet the discovery and distributing of the distinctions within you.

Your distinction is the only thing that can create your legacy at school.

When you are at University or college what do you want to remembered with in your institution? That's while you don't want distinctions but you need them.

If you are to realize your distinctions ability, motivation and dedication to yourself is not a choice but is a necessity.

The authentic power of a bird is to fly and of the fish is to swim. However, authentic power of a learner is to get distinctions. That's why you can never really get tired of getting distinctions.

Nothing lives beyond your life after your matric than the distinctions.

For a learner to easily tap into his or her distinctions, they must be motivated to save their distinctions spirit from being used by peers yet their studies.

Passion is the source of motivation. The source of motivation is the right information that you get about yourself.

Genuine geniuses do not need outside appraisal or stimuli to get distinctions. They are self-motivated.

Teachers praise genuine geniuses but that does not really count to them. Genuine geniuses are always looking forward to get distinctions when they write another test or examinations.

To be the master of distinctions which you can, you should not study just to pass, but study to pass with distinctions.

Think two times above your contemporary students. You shall always lead them with distinctions.

Not every student can study alone everyday, but you have to do that sacrifice to become a great student in this lockdown.

Geniuses are not desperate for attention. They are always desperate for studying. In essence, geniuses do not focus too much on other people but on studying.

You are a stranger to distinctions when you always get less than 80%.

Dating with studying is recommended to get distinctions in your studies. However, dating without studying makes it difficult if not impossible to get distinctions.

No student will ever obtain distinctions without being mentally and physically fit. Your distinctions are determined by the level of your mental and physical fitness.

Change is inevitable in accumulating your distinctions that are already trapped within you. Without you changing, nothing will change.

Loving ourselves by knowing who we are and what dreams we want to achieve is the foundation to discover your distinctions.

We are created to be social beings and belong to group that have the same goal or synonymous pursuit.

In true sense you cannot say you love yourself while hating to improve yourself by the gaining right knowledge which will lead you to your distinctions.

Loving yourself means trying to be the best in everything that you do.

It's easy to get distinctions yet is not simplistic. That's why you should not stop studying.

You know that you are a genius when you are no longer afraid of examinations and you know that you have already passed before getting into that examination.

Your boyfriend can love you and you return your love to him. But distinctions do not love you because you love them yet they love you because you don't quit studying before writing examination.

As a matter of fact, the only thing that makes anything to succeed is the right knowledge. Therefore, you need right knowledge to succeed in your distinctions.

Walk to your distinction's destination through destiny. That's why you have to understand that true success in academic is not measured by the marks you have got compared to what your classmates have got. But true success is measure by what you have got compared to what you should supposed to get.

The most important competition that geniuses enter is the one with the examiner not the classmates. That means you are not a genius until you compete with your examiner every time you write examinations.

T rue academic success is not outwitting or out classing others but is concentrating on the purpose.

You will never realize that you are also a genius until you start studying every day.

Your spirit of distinctions (mentality) does not care what others says about you. It does not care what bad things you have been told about you. Your spirit of distinctions is more concern about getting distinctions. It perpetuates your appetite of knowledge interminably.

To be a great student, you must be the slave of your distinctions not of your peers or indigenous culture.

The spirit of distinctions is the mentality of a slow learner to start living with distinctions in his or her life.

You are exactly the product of the ideas that you believe at. That's why if you don't like where you are you should reconsider changing your source.

Let's not divorce our distinctions by ignorance. Only lackadaisical learners and slow learners do that.

The only powerful prayer that you can pray to God is the one of asking him the spirit of distinctions.

God can't help you to get distinctions if you don't help yourself. That is why he gave you the distinctions spirit but you must develop the spirit of distinctions. In other words, he gave you the ability to get distinctions but you must develop the mentality to get distinctions.

If change is inevitable to get distinctions during this lockdown, then you have to change.

The powerful enemy that can attack your distinctions is possession of the mentality that, "I know everything".

You are not destroyed by your previous failure, but you are destroyed by the negative thoughts that you have about yourself based on the previous failures.

Strong geniusness attitude is not build on the teacher's appraisal or praisal on you but is build on the understanding and releasing of your distinctions.

We only believe what we know about distinctions and what we know about distinctions is not enough to be known. That's why you have to learn more about distinctions.

If what we have learnt about ourselves is not true, we still live by it and we will continue living by it because we think is true. Accepting and listening to positive thoughts about you is extremely important to consider as a learner.

Classroom is a place where you revise what you have learnt at home or at library.

Love of studying is the attraction of distinctions because you cannot get distinctions without studying super hard.

The desire and the dream to get distinctions is just an idea if you don't have a plan and patience of achieving it.

Always ask yourself this question to be a genius, which chapters am I studying today?

Only the mentality knows the ability of one to get distinctions.

Ever since you are the CEO of your life, take charge of your studies to always get distinctions.

Geniuses are learners who decide to reject teachers and learners' opinions about them. They are self-motivated to always be at the top. No opinions from other people can make a great learner to fail or lose hope of getting distinctions because what they want to achieve is more important than what they say about them.

Distinctions less life can put your brighter future at risk. The guarantee of your academic success is the release of distinctions within you.

The school can take the highest positions not only in the district but also in the nation because of your distinctions.

The question is, will the school ever be at the highest level because of your distinctions?

Conviction is what make a genius to overcome all the oppositions, criticism and insurmountable odds he or she will face during his academic journey.

The essence of getting distinctions is you being "in charge" of your life. Be in charge of your life.

It does not take much to get distinctions except dedication and determination to your studies.

TTrue geniuses possess an attitude of initiating to study everyday.

Distinctions is a main dream of geniuses but initiative makes it accomplished.

Geniuses are interesting in thinking about distinctions but they are more concern on acting to get them. That's why they are always acting more than thinking.

Geniuses are fearless students because of knowledge. That's what separate them from slow learners.

Effective genius involves the efficacious management of studies.

The course that you want to pursue determines what is important in your life.

Dating is good but studying is more important than dating. Date with studying.

Your past failures should be a motivation to work hard this time.

What we pay attention to determine what we will achieve and how.

It is bad distinctions to believe that you cannot get distinctions in examinations.

TTrue geniuses are born and made. That's why you need to be motivated to get courage and power to start getting distinctions.

TTrue geniuses possess self-confidence and competence follows. If you think you can get distinctions, that's confidence and if you study to get them, that's competence.

HHabit can destroy your distinctions. For example, when you think you need to smoke before studying. That's a risking point of your distinctions.

TTrue distinctions attitude is not you competing with your classmates but is you competing with an examiner.

IIf you don't want to achieve or accomplish the distinctions, you have the desire to. Whenever you run away from your distinctions by not working hard, you simultaneously running away from your brighter future.
So, where are you going to end?

Distinctions success comes from the discipline of a learner following his or her purpose academically.

TTrue geniuses are always zealous for and jealous of their distinctions because these distinctions represent their lives.

TThe desire to get distinctions alone is not enough you have to plan how to get them accomplished and when to start preparing for them. Sooner is always better than later.

TTrue geniuses are cognizant that no distinctions ever accomplished without hard working and dedication to studies.

You become great the day you get distinctions because greatness of a learner is determined by the number of distinctions he gets in examinations.

You were designed to make a mark and leave a legacy in the school. Your mark and legacy are only found in distinctions.

Procrastination can be forever pre-occupation of your distinctions. That's why you should never again procrastinate studying.

Distinctions less life is a curse to the one who gave you to release. True geniuses act upon their studies more than talking about them.

Nothing will ever disturb you to get distinctions than friends that give no courage to study yet lazy.

To kill your distinctions and bury them in the grave, be lazy. Do nothing everyday.

Every distinction that is taking the school to the highest level are paid for by some learner's life. That means some learner/s have worked hard to get them.

The question is, will we ever see your distinctions?

As a car need petrol to function properly so as a learner needs motivation to get distinctions. It is your courage that comes from motivation that will give birth to your distinctions.

Doing nothing means not going to achieve something.

Declaration of distinction requires dedication and mediation of knowledge.

The more you read the more you invest knowledge to get distinctions.

Genuine geniuses eternally attain distinctions by forever studying.

You want to be unforgettable and it is only your distinctions that will make you unforgettable.
